NONPROFIT AUDIT |

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors of
Adult Children of Alcoholics World Service Organization
Signal Hill, California

Opinion

I have audited the accompanying financial statements of Adult Children of Alcoholics World Service Organization (nonprofit organization), which comprise the statements of financial position as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In my opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Adult Children of Alcoholics World Service Organization as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

I conducted my audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. My responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of my report. I am required to be independent of Adult Children of Alcoholics World Service Organization and to meet my other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to my audit. I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Adult Children of Alcoholics World Service Organization's, ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

My objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes my opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, I:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of Adult Children of Alcoholics World Service Organization's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in my judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about Adult Children of Alcoholics World Service Organization's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

I am required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that I identified during the audit.

Adult Children of Alcoholics World Service Organization

Notes to Financial Statements

NOTE 1 – ORGANIZATION

Adult Children of Alcoholics World Service Organization (the Organization) was incorporated under the laws of the state of California on January 12, 1987. The Organization is a publicly supported organization as described in Sections 170(b)(1)(A)(vi) and 509(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code.

The Organization's primary office location is in Signal Hill, California. The Organization also holds inventory in other warehouses maintained by third parties. The mission of the Organization is to serve the fellowship of Adult Children of Alcoholics (ACA) worldwide and through its agency to help those seeking recovery from the effects of an upbringing in an alcoholic or otherwise dysfunctional environment. The means for recovery is provided through sharing information and personal experiences with one another and using the 12 steps and 12 traditions as a basis for this sharing. By doing so, the intent is to better the individual's life experiences and hence the communities wherein they reside.

The Organization's programs provide adult children of alcoholics twelve step informational and educational materials, develop additional twelve step program and educational materials with the creation and publication of additional European languages, provide free program books and literature to persons incarcerated in jails and prisons or are patients in institutions, and provide free program books and literature to professional psychologists, therapists, and other medical doctors.

The Organization relies on the generosity of the community for its support and voluntary contributions. bequests, gifts, grants, and fees for its services. All members of the Board of Directors and Committees are volunteers and do not receive compensation for such services.

NOTE 2 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP"). The statements of financial position are presented in order of liquidity.

The Organization classifies revenue, other support, and expenses into two net asset categories according to the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. Accordingly, net assets of the Organization and changes therein are classified and reported as follows:

- Net assets without donor restrictions – Net assets for use in general operations and not subject to donor (or certain grantor) restrictions. The governing board may designate, from net assets without donor restrictions, net assets for an operating reserve through a board-designated endowment. The Organization has not set up a board-designated endowment.
- Net assets with donor restrictions – Net assets subject to donor (or certain grantor) imposed restrictions. Some donor-imposed restrictions are temporary in nature, such as those that will be met by the passage of time, purpose or other events specified by the donor. Other donor-imposed restrictions are perpetual in nature, where the donor stipulates that resources be maintained in perpetuity. Donor-imposed restrictions are released when a restriction expires, that is, when the stipulated time has elapsed, when the stipulated purpose for which the resource was restricted has been fulfilled, or both.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of reporting cash flows, cash and cash equivalents include bank checking accounts used for operating purposes and highly liquid investments available for current use with maturities of three months or less, which are neither held for nor restricted by donors for long-term purposes.

Accounts Receivable

Accounts receivable is stated at the amount billed to the Organization's customers and represents amounts due for books and other materials sold by the Organization. Receivables are recorded at estimated fair value at the time of origination and are reflected in the statement of financial position net of expected credit losses. The measurement of expected credit losses is determined based on historical experience, current conditions, and reasonable and supportable forecasts. The Organization did not have any expected credit losses as of December 31, 2024 and 2023 as it deemed the amount to be immaterial.

Inventories

Inventories of merchandise purchased for resale are stated at lower of cost or market determined by weighted average cost method. Donated goods inventory is recorded at fair value at the date of donation. Inventories generally consist of books and other materials held for retail sale.

Prepaid Expenses

Prepaid expenses consist of expenses that have been paid for in advance but not yet incurred.

Fair Value Measurements

The Organization carries certain assets and liabilities at fair value. Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Certain financial instruments are carried at cost on the statements of financial position, which approximates fair value due to their short term, highly liquid nature.

The Organization classifies its financial assets and liabilities according to three levels and maximizes the use of observable inputs and minimizes the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value.

- Level 1 - Quoted market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity has the ability to access at the measurement date. Examples of such assets are actively traded stocks, bonds, and mutual funds. This Level of data is given priority over Level 2 and 3 data in establishing fair market value.
- Level 2 - Observable inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. An example of such an asset is an investment that is not traded actively and therefore no quoted price is available, but other similar investments have traded recently, or other data such as interest or yield rates are available that allows for a valuation of the asset. This Level of data is given priority over Level 3 data in establishing a fair market value.
- Level 3 - Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability that are not corroborated by market data. In this situation, unobservable data may be used to make the best fair value determination possible.

Adult Children of Alcoholics World Service Organization

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment used in the operations of the Organization are stated at cost or, if donated, at the fair value at the date of contribution. All donated assets are reported as unrestricted support unless donors' stipulations specify how the assets must be used. The Organization reports expirations of donor restrictions when the acquired assets are placed in service and reclassifies with donor restricted net assets to without donor restricted net assets at that time. Property and equipment with a cost of at least $1,000 and a useful life of three years or more is capitalized. Depreciation and amortization on both purchased and donated items are recorded using the straight-line method over the shorter of the estimated useful life of the related asset or the term of the lease for leasehold improvements as follows:

Machinery and equipment	3-5 years
Furniture and fixtures	5-7 years

Normal repairs and maintenance are expensed as incurred, whereas significant charges that increase the fixed asset values or extend useful lives are capitalized and depreciated over the estimated useful lives of the related assets.

Expenditures for fixed assets that are purchased with government funds are expensed when acquired because the grantor retains title to such assets.

Upon sale or disposition of property and equipment, the asset account is reduced by the cost, and the accumulated depreciation account is reduced by depreciation taken prior to the sale. Gains and losses are recognized in the statements of activities and changes in net assets upon disposal of property and equipment.

Intangible Assets

The Organization recognizes website design, software, trademarks, and copyrights as components of its intangible assets. These intangible assets are amortized using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets, ranging from 3 to 10 years.

The Organization periodically reviews intangible assets for impairment. Intangible assets are included on the statement of financial position as other long-term assets. The Organization initiates its review whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of assets may not be recoverable. Recoverability of an asset is measured by comparison of its carrying amount to the expected future undiscounted cash flows that the asset is expected to generate. Any impairment to be recognized is measured by the amount by which the carrying amount of the assets exceeds its fair value. Significant management judgement is required in this process.

Construction in Progress

Subcontractor fees and software purchases are captured in the construction in progress account when purchased, or at the time of donation. These costs are considered to be construction in progress until they are placed in service. Construction in progress is not amortized until the completion of the software development.

Adult Children of Alcoholics World Service Organization

Impairment of Long-lived Assets

The Organization reviews its investment in long-lived assets for indicators of impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Impairment would be recorded in circumstances where undiscounted cash flows expected to be generated by an asset are less than the carrying value of that asset. As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, there were no events or changes in circumstances indicating the carrying amount of long-lived assets may not be recoverable. There can be no assurance, however, that market or other conditions will not change in the future resulting in impairment of long-lived assets.

Deposits

Deposits are amounts paid on lease agreements that are expected to be refunded at the end of the lease term unless renewed.

Compensated Absences

The Organization's employees earn paid-time-off (PTO) based on the amount of time worked annually. Unused PTO for full-time employees is cumulative from year to year and can be accrued. Employees are also granted sick pay, which is not an earned benefit. No payment of unused sick leave will be made upon termination of employment.

Leases

The Organization leases office space under an operating lease. The Organization determines if an arrangement is a lease at inception. In evaluating contracts to determine if they qualify as a lease, the Organization considers factors such as if the Organization has obtained substantially all of the rights to the underlying asset through exclusivity, if the Organization can direct the use of the asset by making decisions about how and for what purpose the asset will be used and if the lessor has substantive substitution rights. This evaluation may require significant judgment.

Operating leases are included in operating lease right-of-use (ROU) assets and operating lease liabilities on the accompanying statements of financial position. ROU assets represent the Organization's right to use an underlying asset for the lease term and lease liabilities represent the Organization's obligation to make lease payments arising from the lease.

ROU assets and liabilities are recognized at the lease commencement date based on the present value of lease payments over the lease term. For leases that do not provide an implicit rate, the Organization has elected to use the risk-free rate based on the information available at the commencement date in determining the present value of lease payments. The operating lease ROU asset also includes any lease payments made and excludes lease incentives. The lease terms may include options to extend or terminate the lease when it is reasonably certain that the Organization will exercise that option. Lease expense for lease payments is recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

The Organization has elected not to recognize right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for short-term leases and instead records them in a manner similar to operating leases under legacy leasing guidelines. A short-term lease is one with a maximum lease term of 12 months or fewer and does not include a purchase option that the lessee is reasonably certain to exercise.

Revenue Recognition

Inventory sales

Revenue is recognized when a customer obtains control of promised goods, in an amount that reflects the consideration which the entity expects to receive in exchange for those goods. For the Organization, this generally means revenue is recognized when the books and other materials are shipped to the customer, as this is the point in time that the customer obtains control. The Organization's contracts with customers do not include significant financing components, variable consideration, or noncash consideration.

Revenue is not recognized unless collectability under the contract is considered probable, the contract has commercial substance, and the contract has been approved. Additionally, the contract must contain payment terms, as well as the rights and commitments of both parties. The Organization applies the practical expedient in Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) Topic 606, Revenue from Contracts with Customers and does not adjust the promised amount of consideration for the effects of a significant financing component due to the expectation that the period between the transfer of the promised goods or services to the customer and payment by the customer will be one year or less.

Contributions

Transactions where the resource provider often receives value indirectly by providing a societal benefit, although the societal benefit is not considered to be of commensurate value, are deemed to be contributions. Contributions are classified as either conditional or unconditional. A conditional contribution is a transaction where the Organization has to overcome a barrier or hurdle to be entitled to the resource and the resource provider is released from the obligation to fund or has the right of return of any advanced funding if the Organization fails to overcome the barrier. The Organization recognizes the contribution revenue upon overcoming the barrier or hurdle. Any funding received prior to overcoming the barrier is recognized as a refundable advance.

Unconditional promises to give (pledges receivable) are recognized as contributions when received at their estimated fair value. Contributions are considered available for unrestricted use unless specifically restricted by the donor.

Amounts received that are restricted for future periods or by the donor for specific purposes are reported as support with donor restrictions that increases that net asset class.

Unconditional contributions are recorded as either with donor restrictions or without donor restrictions. Contributions are recognized as contributions with donor restrictions if they are received with donor stipulations that limit the use of the donated asset. Contributions received with no donor stipulations are recorded as contributions without donor restrictions.

When a donor restriction expires, that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished, net assets with donor restrictions are reclassified as net assets without donor restrictions and are reported in the statements of activities and changes in net assets as net assets released from restriction.

Adult Children of Alcoholics World Service Organization

In-Kind Contributions

In addition to receiving cash contributions, the Organization may receive in-kind contributions from various donors. The value of in-kind donations is based on either donor-stated value, face value or replacement value had the Organization needed to purchase from an outside source. The fair market value is determined through active markets of identical or similar items. For the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023, there were no in-kind contributions received.

Events and Conferences Revenue

Revenue from events and conferences includes registrations and meal tickets and are recognized in the period in which the event occurs.

Contributed Services

Several volunteers have donated significant amounts of time and services to the Organization. Contributed services are recognized by the Organization if the services received (a) create or enhance long-lived assets or (b) require specialized skills, are provided by individuals possessing those skills, and would typically need to be purchased if not provided by donation. The services donated are not reflected in the accompanying financial statements as an expense or as income from donations; such services do not meet the above criteria for recording under U.S. GAAP.

Deferred Revenue

Deferred revenue arises when potential revenue does not meet the criteria for recognition in the current period and when resources are received by the organization prior to the incurrence of expenses. In subsequent periods, when both revenue recognition criteria are met, the liability for deferred revenue is removed from the statement of financial position and revenue is recognized.

Income Taxes

The Organization has been classified as a publicly supported, tax-exempt organization under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and is exempt from California franchise taxes under Revenue and Taxation Code Section 23701(d).

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the Organization to report information regarding its exposure to various tax positions taken by the Organization. As of December 31, 2024 and 2023, management evaluated the Organization's tax positions and concluded that the Organization had maintained its tax-exempt status and had taken no uncertain tax positions that require adjustment to the financial statements.

The Organization's returns are subject to potential examination by federal and state taxing authorities, generally for three and four years, respectively, after they are filed. Any interest or penalties assessed to the Organization are recorded in other expenses. No interest or penalties from federal or state tax authorities were recorded in the accompanying financial statements.

Measure of Operations

The statements of activities report all changes in net assets, including changes in net assets from operating and nonoperating activities. Operating activities consist of those items attributable to the Organization's ongoing programs. Nonoperating activities are limited to resources that generate return from long-term investments and other activities considered to be of a more unusual or nonrecurring nature.

Functional Allocation of Expenses

Expenses that can be identified with a specific program or supporting service are charged directly to the related program or supporting service. Certain expenses that are associated with more than one program or supporting service have been allocated among the programs and supporting services benefited based on a percentage of direct salaries method. The percentage of direct salaries method assigns time spent by employees on each program or support service to obtain overall percentages spent on each organizational activity.

Overhead expenses and supporting departments are allocated based on headcount percentages for each program and supporting department. Depreciation and facility costs are allocated based on square footage of the space used by each department.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and related disclosures at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues, expenses and changes in net assets during the reporting period. While management believes that these estimates are adequate as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, it is possible that actual results could differ from those estimates, and the difference could be material to the financial statements.

Recently Adopted Accounting Pronouncements

In June 2016, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) No. 2016-13, Financial Instruments – Credit Losses (Topic 326): Measurement of Credit Losses on Financial Instruments (ASU 2016-13). ASU 2016-13 requires the measurement of all expected credit losses for financial assets, including trade receivables, held at the reporting date based on historical experience, current conditions, and reasonable and supportable forecasts. Adoption of ASU 2016-13 will require the Organization to use forward looking information to better formulate its credit loss estimates. ASU 2016-13 is effective for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2022, and early adoption is permitted. The Organization adopted ASU 2016-13 of this pronouncement on its financial statements, although management currently believes the adoption of this standard is not expected to have a significant impact on the financial statements.

At the beginning of the first quarter of 2023, the Organization adopted ASU 2016-13. The Organization adopted ASU 2016-13 utilizing the modified retrospective transition method. The adoption of ASU 2016-13 did not have a material impact on the Organization's financial statements.
